

The conglomeration of several radio stations into few hands has resulted in the pasteurization of the medium, and is creating a monopolistic situation.

Stifling individuality in radio stations leads to communities not having their own voice.

Please counteract this dangerous trend. America needs its voice back.